

Government Audits and International NGOs

CPAs & ADVISORS

For over 40 years, GRF CPAs & Advisors (GRF) has provided nonprofits and International Non-Governmental Organizations (INGOs) with support for financial operations and regulatory compliance, allowing them to focus on the important programs they provide to local and global communities.

Uniform Guidance Expertise

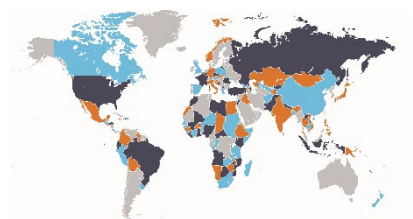

Members of our firm are recognized as experts in the field of auditing US government assistance programs. This includes highly specialized audits that comply with US government requirements, such as the Federal Acquisition Regulations and the Office of Management and Budget Title 2, CFR 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles and Audit Requirements (Uniform Guidance). Our professionals work with nonprofit and for-profit organizations that receive US government awards in the form of grants, cooperative agreements and contracts.

INGOs Benefit from Working with GRF

Broad Government Audit Expertise – GRF conducts audits on behalf of most federal agencies, most frequently for the US Agency for International Development, as well as the US Departments of Health and Human Services, Commerce, Interior, Agriculture, Food and Drug Administration, Environmental Protection Agency and State. We understand the unique reporting requirements associated with government-appropriated funds and provide guidance to INGOs to help them comply with new federal funding or incremental funding to existing awards.

GRF's auditors travel around the world to perform on-site audits of INGOs and foreign offices of US-based organizations in:

- Africa
- Europe
- Eastern & Central Asia
- Central & South America
- Many developing countries

Government Audits and International NGOs

Understanding of International Donor Agency Regulations – Our team is experienced in the latest regulations and reporting compliance requirements related to donor agencies such as the Canadian International Development Agency, the United Kingdom’s Department for International Development, the United Nations Development Programme, the World Bank, the Inter-American Development Bank, the Swedish International Development Agency and the Asian Development Bank.

Strong Network of Global Relationships – Our strategic alliance with Crowe Global provides clients with access to the advice and resources of more than 10,000 industry professionals in over 130 countries around the world. These resources include the availability of qualified staff to assist us on audits of field offices and to provide specific tax advice in countries around the world.

Service Provided Where Your Organization Operates – Our work in foreign offices puts us in a unique position to provide practical advice on issues such as field/branch office staff training in accordance with federal awarding agency requirements, proper procedures for the procurement of goods and services, local tax regulations, grants management and investment policies.

Risk Advisory for International Operations – Managing risk across the globe and among sub-recipients requires carefully-developed mitigation and response measures. GRF’s advisory team works with organizations to develop holistic approaches to managing risk that take the client’s unique needs into consideration.

Engagement Team Accessibility – Since our partners and staff spend most of their time in the field, we have developed the process and tools to ensure a high-level of customer service. Our staff is trained extensively to handle most issues that will come up in the field, allowing our partners to be available for on-site, phone or video communication as needed.

Membership provides GRF access to a national community of accounting professionals whose commitment to providing governmental audit services enhances our ability to maintain current knowledge and deliver quality services to our nonprofit clients.
